Two Gentlemen of Verona

- A.J. Cronin

Warm up

Page 1

Life is full of ups and downs. It has pleasant surprises as well as rude shocks. Nevertheless, every incident offers a lesson for us to learn and evolve into better individuals.

Mention some unexpected challenges or adversities one could face in life.

Loss of the bread winner	Sudden floods
Earthquake	Loss of limbs

What qualities do you think one should possess to handle hardships and overcome them?

Confidence and hard work	Hard work and team spirit
Presence of mind and courage	Quick to respond with optimism

Summary

The narrator was driving through the foothills of the Alps along with his companion. While driving on the outskirts of Verona, two young boys who sold wild strawberries stopped their car. The small boys appeared to be quite shabby and the driver was not keen on buying strawberries from them. Then the narrator's companion got to know that the boys were brothers. The elder one aged 13 was Nicola, and the younger brother, aged 12, was Jacopo. The narrator and his companion bought the biggest basket of strawberries from the boys and went towards the city. The next morning, they again saw the same two boys doing the shoe shining job and on being asked, they said that they did many things for a living. They also told the narrator and his companion that they could work as guides and show the visitors places of interest in the town. So, the narrator asked them to take them around. During the time of their stay in the town, the two young boys turned out to be very helpful to the visitors.

Then, the boys were found with a bundle of unsold newspapers and were ready to sell them when the last bus arrived one night. The narrator asked them why they were working so hard. He also told them that they seemed to fetch sufficient money and asked why they were not spending anything on clothes and food. Nicola told him that they had something in their minds but he did not elaborate.

Jacopo then requested the narrator to drop them in his car to the village Polenta that was around 30 kilometres away. Nicola did not like the fact that his brother was troubling the narrator. But the narrator gladly agreed to help the boys reach that place. So, the next afternoon, he along with his companion drove to the village. After reaching the place, the small boys entered a large red-roofed villa, which was actually a hospital. When the narrator entered the hospital he saw those boys talking to a girl who was a patient in the hospital. When the narrator entered the hospital he saw those boys talking to a girl who was a patient in the hospital. He tried to find out from the nurse about the girl in the hospital and the boys. Later, the nurse told him that Lucia was the sister of those two boys and was suffering from tuberculosis. She also mentioned that a bomb destroyed their home during the war. And even their father, a widower, had got killed during the early part of the war. When he died, his three children were left to starve. She told the narrator that the boys became a part of the resistance movement. Once the war was over, Lucia got afflicted with tuberculosis and the boys had to admit her to the hospital. So, they had been trying their best to make the payments regularly to the hospital.

The narrator waited outside the room. He did not say anything to the boys on their way back in order to give the impression that he did not know about their secret.

3. Answer the following in a paragraph of 100 – 150 words each.

a) What was the driving force that made the boys do various jobs?

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Sacrifice we make for others and that others make for us, result in blessings for all.

The narrator was driving through the foothills of the Alps along with his companion. While driving on the outskirts of Verona, two young boys who sold wild strawberries stopped their car. The small boys appeared to be quite shabby and the driver was not keen on buying strawberries from them. Then the narrator's companion got to know that the boys were brothers. The elder one aged 13 was Nicola, and the younger brother, aged 12, was Jacopo. Then the narrator came to know that the boys did many jobs to earn money. They shinned shoes, guided the tourists and sold newspaper. Before the War they had a very comfortable life but the war devastated their life. They lost their father and their house. They were thrown into the streets and suffered from starvation and severe cold. Because of this, tuberculosis affected their sister Lucia but it did not crush their spirit. They admitted her in a posh hospital for treatment. They had to pay the hospital bill every week. Their love for their sister was the driving force that made the boys do various jobs.

Never stop fighting until you arrive at your destined place.

b) How was the family affected by the war?

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Shortly afterward a bomb had destroyed their home and thrown the three children into the streets.

They stayed in a make-shift shelter they built over the rubble. Then the boys joined the resistance movement against Germans. By the time their sister was affected by tuberculosis. This made them work a lot to earn money to treat their sister.

War is what happens when language fails.

c) Write a character sketch of Nicola and Jacopo.

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Yet in both these boyish faces there was a seriousness which was far beyond their years.

'The two gentlemen of Verona' are the boys in the story, Nicola and Jacopo. Nicola, aged 13, was the elder brother of Jacopo aged 12. Both the siblings were very sincere and self-sacrificing. They were prepared to do anything for helping their sister Lucia to recover from tuberculosis. They lived a hard life and did all sorts of odd jobs. Right from shining shoes, selling fruit, distributing newspapers, to working as tourist guides and running their errands, they still looked contented and maintained their self-respect. They did not have the intention of talking about their struggles and sufferings. They wanted to keep it a secret. During the war period, they started hating Germans and also joined the Resistance Movement for their country's freedom.

d) What message is conveyed through the story 'Two Gentlemen of Verona'?

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Their selfless action brought a new nobility to human life, gave promise of a greater hope for human society.

J. Cronin wrote this memoir after visiting Verona. The short story's title is inspired by a popular Shakespeare's play. Nevertheless, the main idea of the author is to underline the virtues that make a man a real man. The story captures the sentiment that true humanity is not about letting go, and it is about courage and determination. The two young gentlemen of Verona face their difficulties head on without a single complaint. When the author tried to tell them they were working too much, they simply said they had no complaint. Their love for the agonising sister is amazing. Their dignity of labour is remarkable. Their dedication for their sister is supreme. Their selfless action brought a new nobility to human life and gave promise of a greater hope for human society. Their love and emotional strength are truly commendable. And the boys' maturity and sense of responsibility are also praiseworthy. The author says that in both the boyish face there was a seriousness which was far beyond their age. These boys display exemplary courage amidst extreme poverty and devastation and the author manages to find real inspiration from their lives.

Make your life a masterpiece; imagine no limitations on what you can be, have or do.

e) Justify the title of the story 'Two Gentlemen of Verona'.

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Age does not define your maturity.

Taken from the early play by William Shakespeare, the title of this story 'Two Gentlemen of Verona' is gripping. The story is about how two sincere and selfless young boys face hardships for the treatment of their sister suffering from tuberculosis. It conveys the message that as long as people are willing to make sacrifices for the well-being of others, there is hope for humanity. J. The story captures the sentiment that true humanity is not about letting go, and it is about courage and determination. The two young gentlemen of Verona face their difficulties head on without a single complaint. Though the heroes of this short story are two boys of the age 13 and 12, their behaviour suits the grown-up men. Their composed life tells the readers they have all the qualities of gentlemen. So the title 'Two Gentlemen of Verona' is very apt for this short story.

*A gentleman inspires others to dream more, learn more,
do more and become more*

- f) Adversity brings out the best as well as the worst in people. Elucidate this statement with reference to the story.

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Your hardest times often lead to the greatest moments of life.

When man suffers from hardship and difficulty the best or the worst of his will be brought out. Some will try to overcome the adversity with negative elements like anti-social dealings and others will use the positive energy to overcome the adversity. The best or the worst comes out due to the pressure of adversity. In this story, the two boys use their best to overcome their problems. Nevertheless, the main idea of the author is to underline the virtues that make a man a real man. The story captures the sentiment that true humanity is not about letting go, and it is about courage and determination. They lost everything in their life except hope. The hope pushes them to use their positive energy. So this story is an example to prove that adversity brings out the best in people.

You can't be brave if you have only had wonderful things happen to you.

- g) Which character do you like the most in the story and why?

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

Yet their devotion had touched me deeply. War had not broken their spirit.

A.J. Cronin, the author of 'Two Gentlemen of Verona' pictures the two boys – Nicola and Jacopo – with the real characters of gentlemen. The two 'gentlemen' of Verona are the boys in the story, Nicola and Jacopo. Nicola, aged 13, was the elder brother of Jacopo aged 12. Both the siblings were very sincere and self-sacrificing. They were prepared to do anything for helping their sister Lucia to recover from tuberculosis. They lived a hard life and did all sorts of odd jobs. Right from shining shoes, selling fruit, distributing newspapers, to working as tourist guides and running their errands, they still looked contented and maintained their self-respect. They did not have the intention of talking about their family problem and wanted to keep it a secret. During the war period, they started hating Germans and also joined the Resistance Movement for their country's freedom. So I like the characters of these two boys.

Only through suffering can character be strengthened.

Additional

Answer the following in a paragraph of 100 – 150 words each.

1. Give a short description of what happened in 'Two Gentlemen of Verona'.

Title	Two Gentlemen of Verona
Author	A.J. Cronin
Theme	Supreme sacrifice of two boys for their suffering sister

They shined shoes, sold fruit, hawked newspapers, conducted tourists round the town, and ran errands.

The narrator was driving through the foothills of the Alps along with his companion. While driving on the outskirts of Verona, two young boys who sold wild strawberries stopped their car. The small boys appeared to be quite shabby. The boys were brothers. The elder one aged 13 was Nicola, and the younger brother, aged 12, was Jacopo. The narrator and his companion bought the biggest basket of strawberries from the boys. Later, they came to know that the boys did many kinds of job to earn money. During the time of their stay in the town, the two young boys turned out to be very helpful to the visitors. The boys earned money but they spent only a little. The boys earned the money to cure their sister who was hospitalised for tuberculosis. They had a decent life before the war and the war made them orphans but they had been trying their best to make the payments regularly to the hospital.

There is no greater agony than bearing an untold story inside you.

Drafting a Speech

Task 1

On the occasion of World Environment Day you have been asked to deliver a speech during morning assembly on the importance of tree planting. Write the speech in about 100 – 150 words.

Respected Principal, learned teachers and my friends, I am Sunder from XII std. and I am here today to talk about the Importance of Tree Plantation.

"Trees exhale for us so that we can inhale them to stay alive. Can we ever forget that? Let us love trees with every breath we take until we perish". Khalil Gibran says, "Trees are poems that the earth writes upon the sky".

Tree plays a significant role for all of us as well as for animals, insects, birds etc. We know the famous slogan "Save trees, Save life". So we should acknowledge it and be a part of the plantation. Trees are important for life on Earth. Trees give us shade. Trees give beauty to any place. Trees bear beautiful and colourful flowers. They are home to many animals, birds and insects. When trees are cut, these creatures lose their home. Trees are also food for man, and all herbivorous animals and birds. Insects also depend on trees to complete their life cycle. They are of great ecological importance. Trees and forests help in maintaining monsoon cycles and rainfall patterns. They also bind the soil, and prevent the top layer of the soil, which is the most fertile, from getting washed away in rains and floods. As trees are important for the earth and the environment, we must protect them. Tree plantation is an important activity to make our environment green, clean and healthy.

Trees are the lungs of our land, purifying the air and giving fresh strength to the people.

Thank you for the opportunity.

Task 2

Prepare a speech on "The importance of a reading habit" in about 100 – 150 words using the hints below together with your own ideas.

Respected Principal, learned teachers and my friends, I am Sunder from XII std. and I am here today to talk about the Importance of Reading Habit.

"Books open your mind; broaden your mind; and strengthen you as nothing else can."

Reading is one of the most important and priceless activities. Reading is the kind of exercise that keeps your mind active and healthy. It is important to develop the habit of reading not only for knowledge but also for personal growth and development. It develops positive thinking and gives you a better perspective of life. It develops your imagination and provides you with fund of knowledge. Once you start reading, you experience a whole new world. Reading can help you grow better and better. Good books can influence you positively and guide you towards the right direction in life. Reading develops language skills and vocabulary. Reading books is also a way to relaxing and reducing stress. Reading increases creativity and enhances your understanding of life. If we want to adopt some good habits in life then reading should definitely be on the top of our list. It plays a vital role in the optimistic growth and development of a person. Reading leads to self-improvement. The pleasure of reading cannot be expressed in words. One needs to read to experience the joy of reading.

'Be a reader; become a leader.'

There is more treasure in books than in all the pirate's look on treasure island; says Walt Disney.

Thank you for the opportunity.

Letter Writinga) Read the following letter carefully, discuss with your partner and answer the questions.

Page 17

Sir,

I request you to publish the following letter in your daily to address an important issue which needs immediate redressal.

During week ends motorcyclists are seen racing on the East Coast road and the Old Mahabalipuram road of Chennai. The amateur racers are risking their own lives and of the public as well. They are fearless and irresponsible, not knowing the price of human lives. Risking others and their lives for their pleasure is highly condemnable.

Even school students indulge in such activities and cause fatal accidents. The racers have started occupying the lanes and streets of busy localities. As such, the violation of traffic rules often results in loss of young lives. Such reckless riders who violate traffic rules should be punished severely.

As a responsible citizen of the society, I request the authorities concerned to take appropriate measures to put an end to this menace.

Yours truly,
Srivatsav.

Questions:a) Who is the sender of the letter?

Srivatsav is the sender of the letter.

b) Who is the receiver?

Editor of a daily is the receiver.

c) What is the issue?

Motorcycle racing is the issue.

d) What is the request of the sender?

The request of the sender to the authorities concerned is to take appropriate measures to put an end to the motorcycle racing.

e) Who will take steps after reading it?

The traffic police will take steps after reading it.

b) You have chosen Computer Science in the Higher Secondary Course. Write a letter to your friend giving reasons for your choice. Read the clues given in brackets to complete the letter.

Dear Sundar, (Greeting),

Hope you are doing well. (enquire about his well being). I would like to say that I have chosen Computer Science in the Higher Secondary Course. Firstly I want the course to help me for my future. (reason for your choice of group). I wish to become a Software Engineer... (state your ambition). We come to hear a lot of instances of wrong ideas and anti-social elements spoiling the society. (discuss recent unhealthy happenings in social media and the society). These have made me select the course so that after knowing the system well I will be able to find out something to stop such things. (demand or need of this profession). I have plans to pursue MS in US. (higher studies or specialization).

All the best for your CA preparation. Convey my regards to all at home.

Dear Grandma,

I hope you are doing well and your knee pain is ok now. I thank you for the wonderful time I had with you during my summer holidays. The place itself is wonderful but your affection and concern made my life very pleasant. Our walk around the garden is memorable and I will cherish such experience throughout my life. You made me plant 10 saplings and I watered them every day. The green fields around the house are still in my mind. It was a fine experience to watch the harvesting process. It was a real learning for me. Now I miss you a lot. I am waiting for my next chance to be with you.

Yours lovingly,
Ramesh.

Sir,

I request you to publish the following letter in your daily to address an important issue which needs immediate redressal.

Many roadside vendors occupy the road side for their business. It is accepted that they too need a place to sell their goods and earn their living. But it should not be at the risk of others' life. In our area most of the vendors have taken the parking zone for their business. So the two wheeler riders have no proper place to park their vehicles. They park their vehicles in such a way that it gives trouble to the pedestrians and other cars and autos. So the municipal authorities should take necessary action to solve this problem.

Thank you.

Yours faithfully,
Andrews.

Dear Aunt,

I am sorry to hear that you have been admitted in hospital for the treatment of jaundice. It is heartening to know that you are improving day by day. These days jaundice is not a very dangerous disease. The important point is that it should be diagnosed properly. In your case it was done well and your case is not the B type. So you need not worry about it. I am sure you will be out of hospital within few days. Of course you have to be careful about your food hereafter. Your liver should not be affected again. I am sure people at home will take care of you. You have to take rest some time. You can come home and stay with us for a month or so. If you have any financial crunch please let me know. It will be taken care of. We all pray for your speedy recovery.

Yours lovingly,
James.

Summary

Edwin Muir, in his poem 'The Castle' describes the confidence of the soldiers in the beginning and the treacherous act of one warder which led to the fall of the castle. It is written in the form of a monologue. The whole narration is done by a soldier.

Throughout the summer season the enemy was trying to take over the castle. But the soldiers were watching the movements of the enemy from their defensive wall. They watched their own farmers working in their field without any fear. They had enough and more arms and other amenities. Moreover their allies were coming to help them

Their gates were very strong and their walls were very thick so no one could enter the castle. Only a bird could fly over the wall and reach the castle. The soldier was confident that no one could bribe them to open the gates because he thought that the captain was brave and the soldiers were true to their profession. But they were cheated by a warder who opened the gate for the enemy to enter the castle.

Though they had a maze of tunnels, the enemies walked through the tunnels with ease. They lost the castle without any groan. The famous castle was overthrown. No one can narrate this tale without shame. They could do nothing as they were sold out to the enemy. Their only enemy was gold and they had not weapon to fight against gold.

f) Did the soldiers fight with the enemies face to face?

No, they did not fight with the enemies face to face.

g) Who had let the enemies in?

A wizened warder had let the enemies in.

h) How did the enemies enter the castle?

The wizened warder after getting bribery opened the gate. The enemies entered through the tunnels.

i) Why were the secret galleries bare?

As the gate was opened to the enemies by the warder, the strong and secret galleries were bare and open to the enemies.

j) What was the 'shameful act'?

The wizened warder's act of opening the gate to the enemies was the shameful act.

k) Why didn't the narrator want to tell the tale to anybody?

The narrator did not want to tell the tale to anybody because it would spoil the name of all the soldiers.

l) Why did the narrator feel helpless?

As the gate was opened to the enemies, the soldiers did not have time to stop them. So the narrator felt that they were helpless.

m) Who was the real enemy?

The real enemy was gold.

2. Read the poem again and complete the summary using the words given in box.Stanza 1-3

'The Castle' by Edwin Muir is a moving poem on the (1) capture of a well-guarded (2) castle. The soldiers of the castle were totally stress-free and relaxed. They were (3) confident of their castle's physical strength. Through the turrets they were able to watch the mowers and no enemy was found up to the distance of (4) half-a-mile and so they seemed no threat to the castle. They had (5) plenty of weapons to protect them and a large quantity of (6) ration in stock to take care of the well-being of the soldiers inside the castle. The soldiers stood one above the other on the towering battlements (7) watching, to shoot enemies at sight. They believed that the castle was absolutely safe because their captain was (8) brave and the soldiers were loyal.

half-a-mile	castle	ration	plenty
watching	brave	capture	confident

Stanza 4-6

Even by a trick no one but the birds could enter. The enemy could not use a (9) bait for their entry inside the castle. But there was a wicket gate guarded by a (10) wicked-guard. He (11) let in the enemies inside the famous citadel that had been known for its secret gallery and intricate path. The strong castle became (12) weak and thin because of the greedy disloyal warder. The (13) citadel was captured by the enemies for (14) gold. The narrator (15) lamented over the (16) disloyalty of the useless warder and also decided not to disclose this (17) shameful story to anyone. He was (18) helpless and wondered how he would keep this truth to himself. He regretted not finding any (19) weapon to fight with the (20) enemy called 'gold'.

lamented	wicked-guard	let	weapon	weak	helpless
shameful	bait	gold	citadel	disloyalty	enemy

*Our only enemy was gold,
And we had no arms to fight it with.*

b) Bring out the contrasting picture of the castle as depicted in stanza 3 and 5.

Poem	The Castle
Poet	Edwin Muir
Theme	Money makes many things

*No clever trick
Could take us dead or quick,
Only a bird could have got in.*

Edwin Muir, in his poem 'The Castle' describes the confidence of the soldiers in the beginning and the treacherous act of one warder which led to the fall of the castle. It is written in the form of monologue. The whole narration is done by a soldier. In the III stanza the poet describes the strength of the castle. Their gates were very strong and their walls were very thick so no one could enter the castle. Only a bird could fly over the wall and reach the castle. The soldier was confident that no one could bribe them to open the gates because he thought that the captain was brave and the soldiers were true to their profession. In the second part of the IV stanza the poet gives a totally different picture. In the first part the poet asks who could give them a bait. The mood changes in the second part. But they were cheated by a warder who opened the gate for the enemy to enter the castle.

*The famous citadel overthrown,
And all its secret galleries bare.*

c) Human greed led to the mighty fall of the citadel. Explain.

Poem	The Castle

Theme	Money makes many things

*We watched the mowers in the hay
And the enemy half a mile away
They seemed no threat to us at all.*

Edwin Muir, in his poem 'The Castle' describes the confidence of the soldiers in the beginning and the treacherous act of one warder which led to the fall of the castle. It is written in the form of monologue. The whole narration is done by a soldier. The castle was strong and no one could enter it. They had enough and more arms and provisions to take care of the soldiers. The narrator was confident that no could attack them. But a wizard warder had become a prey to greed. So it was easy for the enemies to bribe him with gold. The castle had a very complicated way to reach the castle. But everything became useless because of the greed of the warder. He opened the gate to the enemies and they could use all the secret ways to reach the castle. This is an example to say that human greed will lead to the fall of mighty citadel.

*The cause was lost without a groan,
The famous citadel overthrown,
And all its secret galleries bare.*

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that the enemies could not enter their castle because they had very strong gates and thick and tall walls. But all their strength was lost due to the treacherous act of a wizard warder. He received bribery and opened the gates for the enemies. This tale of shame cannot be told to others.

e) *I will maintain until my death.Reference :

This line is taken from 'The Castle' written by Edwin Muir.

Context:

The poet utters these words at the last part of the poem when he feels ashamed of being a soldier

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that the enemies could not enter their castle because they had very strong gates and thick and tall walls. But all their strength was lost due to the treacherous act of a wizard warder. He received bribery and opened the gates for the enemies. This tale of shame cannot be told to others. He has decided not to reveal this to anyone till his death.

f) *Our only enemy was goldReference :

This line is taken from 'The Castle' written by Edwin Muir.

Context:

The poet says this to explain that they lost the battle because of avarice for gold.

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that the enemies could not enter their castle because they had very strong gates and thick and tall walls. Moreover they had enough and more amenities and provisions for the soldiers. They thought the enemies could never win over them. But a wizard warder after receiving gold from the enemies opened the gate to the enemies so the castle fell to the hands of the enemies. Their enemy was not human but gold. So they could not fight.

Additional Exercise - ERC

Explain the following with reference to the context in about 20-30 words each.

1. "Our towering battlements, tier on tier"

Reference :

This line is taken from 'The Castle' written by Edwin Muir.

Context:

The poet utters these words when he wants to express that the soldiers did not lack anything to defend their castle.

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that no one could even come near them. They had enough and more arms with them. Food for the soldiers and others was plentiful. What was needed for battle was also with them. In short they had enough and more amenities and provisions for the soldiers.

2. "There was a little private gate"

Reference :

This line is taken from 'The Castle' written by Edwin Muir.

Context:

The poet says why and how they lost the battle.

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that no one could even come near them. They had enough and more arms with them. Food for the soldiers and others was plentiful. They had strong gates and high polished wall. No one could enter the castle. But they had a private gate which was opened to the enemies by a warder who got gold from them.

3. "And we had no arms to fight it with".

Reference :

This line is taken from 'The Castle' written by Edwin Muir.

Context:

The poet expresses the painful fact that the soldiers could not do anything to defend the castle.

Explanation :

The soldiers were very confident that no one could even come near them. They had enough and more arms with them. Food for the soldiers and others was plentiful. They had strong gates and high polished wall. No one could enter the castle. But they had a private gate which was opened to the enemies by a warder who got gold from them. Then the soldier realised that their enemy was gold and they had no arms to fight with that.

9. Can you call 'The Castle' an allegorical poem? Discuss.

An allegory is a complete narrative that involves characters and events that stand for an abstract idea or event. In other words, a story, poem, or picture can be interpreted to reveal a hidden meaning, typically a moral or political one. As per the definition of allegory the poem 'The Castle' can be called an allegorical poem. It is a narrative poem with many characters. The narrator, other soldiers, mowers, enemy and wizard warder are the characters depicted in this poem. It clearly says that if one in a big team is willing to cheat others the whole team will fall. The moral of the poem is human greed will lead to the fall of a mighty army.

ListeningThe Soldier

If I should die, think only this of me:
 That there's some corner of a foreign field
 That is forever England. There shall be
 In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
 A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
 Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam;
 A body of England's, breathing English air,
 Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.
 And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
 A pulse in the eternal mind, no less
 Gives somewhere back the thoughts by England given;
 Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day;
 And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
 In hearts at peace, under an English heaven.

If you are punished for a prank your classmate played, how would you react to the situation?

I will surely feel angry and try to escape from the situation. I will try to explain to the authorities I am not responsible for the prank. I can explain what I was doing at the time of happening. But I will not betray my classmate.

While many would seek vengeance or feel sorry for themselves, some may put their trust in God, forgive others for the wrongs done to them and move on in life. What is your take on this? Discuss.

Basically I am a believer in God. I believe nothing will happen to me without God's will. If something happens to me due to the wrongs done to me by others, God will be my protector. I will put my trust in God and pray to him to save me from the situation. God may test me but at the end, he will reward me.

Summary

In Russia during the nineteenth century, a young, attractive businessman named Ivan Dmitrich Aksionov lived with his wife and children. Although he had been a bit wild in his youth, he had now settled down and lived a responsible, productive life. One day he decided to make a trip to a fair where he could sell some of his merchandise. Although his wife had had a bad dream about this trip, Aksionov decided to proceed. On the way, he stopped at an inn, where he met another merchant, a person he knew. They decided to stay at the inn in the rooms next to one another. The next morning, he proceeded on his way. After traveling twenty-five miles, however, he was stopped by a local police officer, who questioned him closely about the time he had spent at the inn. It turned out that the other merchant had been found with his throat slit open, and Aksionov seemed a likely suspect since he knew the man and since their rooms had been adjacent. Aksionov vehemently denied any involvement in the murder. However, when his bags were checked, a bloody knife was found.

Although Aksionov protested his innocence, he was arrested and charged with the murder. Even his wife wondered if he might have been involved, since the circumstantial evidence was so striking. After being severely flogged, he was sent to work in the mines in Siberia. During his twenty-six years of imprisonment there, his hair turned white, his happy-go-lucky personality disappeared, and his body began to weaken; he never showed any signs of happiness and he frequently prayed to God.

While imprisoned, he became a boot-maker, thus earning enough money to buy a book called The Lives of the Saints. He read this book whenever possible. On Sundays he took a prominent role in the religious services, and he sang in the choir of the prison church. The wardens and guards appreciated his humility, and the other prisoners regarded him with respect, calling him "Grandfather" and "The Saint."

When a new shipment of prisoners arrived one day, Aksionov eventually realized that one of the men, Makar, was from his own home town. In response to Aksionov's questions, Makar informed the old man that Aksionov's family was prosperous. Makar seemed to know Aksionov somehow, leading the latter to wonder if Makar knew anything about the murder of the merchant. Makar's reply led Aksionov to begin to suspect that it was Makar who had in fact committed the crime. Makar ignored the accusation. Aksionov had caught Makar trying to dig a tunnel to escape the prison. Aksionov could easily have reported this deed to the authorities, but he chose to keep quiet, even after Makar threatened him. When the tunnel was eventually discovered, no one would identify Makar as the culprit who had been doing the digging. Even Aksionov, who was closely questioned by the Governor of the prison because the Governor knew that his testimony would be honest, denied knowing who had been digging. He did not want to see Makar harshly punished and even began to wonder if he had wrongly suspected Makar of murdering the merchant.

Later that night, Makar came to Aksionov's bed and begged the old man for forgiveness. He confessed that he had indeed killed the merchant and had hidden the bloody knife in Aksionov's belongings. He offered to confess to this crime so that Aksionov could be released from prison and go back to his home and family. Makar continued to beg Aksionov for forgiveness, especially since Aksionov had not revealed what he knew about Makar and the tunnel. Both men were soon weeping, and Aksionov said "God will forgive you! . . . Maybe I am a hundred times worse than you." Having said this, he suddenly felt unburdened and no longer cared about leaving prison. He only desired death. Makar did eventually confess to having killed the merchant, but by the time Aksionov's pardon arrived, he was already deceased.

Theme	Forgiveness is the best form of revenge

Leo Tolstoy in his short story 'God Sees the Truth But Waits' describes the story of Aksionov, who was wrongly punished for a murder. Although Aksionov strongly said that he was not guilty, he was arrested and charged with the murder. Even his wife wondered if he might have been involved, since the circumstantial evidence was so striking. When his wife suspected him he hid his face in his hand and wept. He said to himself that only God alone seemed to know the truth. It was only to Him alone he could appeal. Only from God could he expect mercy. Then he stopped writing any appeal for mercy to the government. He only prayed to God. After being severely flogged, he was sent to work in the mines in Siberia. During his twenty-six years of imprisonment there, his hair turned white, his happy-go-lucky personality disappeared, and his body began to weaken. He never showed any sign of happiness and he frequently prayed to God.

Always forgive your enemies - nothing annoys them so much.

Leo Tolstoy in his short story "God Sees the Truth But Waits" describes a good merchant who was punished wrongly for a murder due to circumstantial evidence. He was sent to Siberia prison and he spent twenty six years there. Then the real culprit Makar came to prison for some other crime. Aksionov understood that he was the culprit but Makar refused to accept it. Once Aksionov had caught Makar trying to dig a tunnel to escape the prison. Aksionov could easily have reported this deed to the authorities, but he chose to keep quiet, even after Makar threatened him. When the tunnel was eventually discovered, no one would identify Makar as the culprit who had been doing the digging. Aksionov did not reveal this to the governor. He forgave Makar. Later that night, Makar came to Aksionov's bed and begged the old man for forgiveness. He confessed that he had indeed killed the merchant and had hidden the bloody knife in Aksionov's belongings. He offered to confess to this crime so that Aksionov could be released from prison and go back to his home and family. Thus it is proved that forgiveness is the best form of revenge.

In Russia during the nineteenth century, a young, attractive businessman named Ivan Dmitrich Aksionov lived with his wife and children.. One day he decided to make a trip to a fair where he could sell some of his merchandise. On the way, he stopped at an inn, where he met another merchant, a person he knew. They decided to stay at the inn in rooms next to one another. The next morning, he proceeded on his way. He was caught for the murder of the merchant. However, when his bags were checked, a bloody knife was found. Although Aksionov protested his innocence, he was arrested and charged with the murder. After being severely flogged, he was sent to work in the mines in Siberia. When a new shipment of prisoners arrived one day, Aksionov eventually realized that one of the men, Makar, was the real murderer. Makar ignored the accusation. Aksionov had caught Makar trying to dig a tunnel to escape the prison. Aksionov did not reveal the fact to the officers. He did not want to see Makar harshly punished and even began to wonder if he had wrongly suspected Makar of murdering the merchant. Later that night, Makar came to Aksionov's bed and begged the old man for forgiveness. He confessed that he had indeed killed the merchant and had hidden the bloody knife in Aksionov's belongings. He offered to confess to this crime so that Aksionov could be released from prison and go back to his home and family. Makar continued to beg Aksionov for forgiveness, especially since Aksionov had not revealed what he knew about Makar and the tunnel. Both men were soon weeping, and Aksionov said "God will forgive you!" He suddenly felt unburdened and no longer cared about leaving prison. He only desired death. Forgiveness is the best form of punishment.

"To forgive is to set a prisoner free and discover that the prisoner was you".

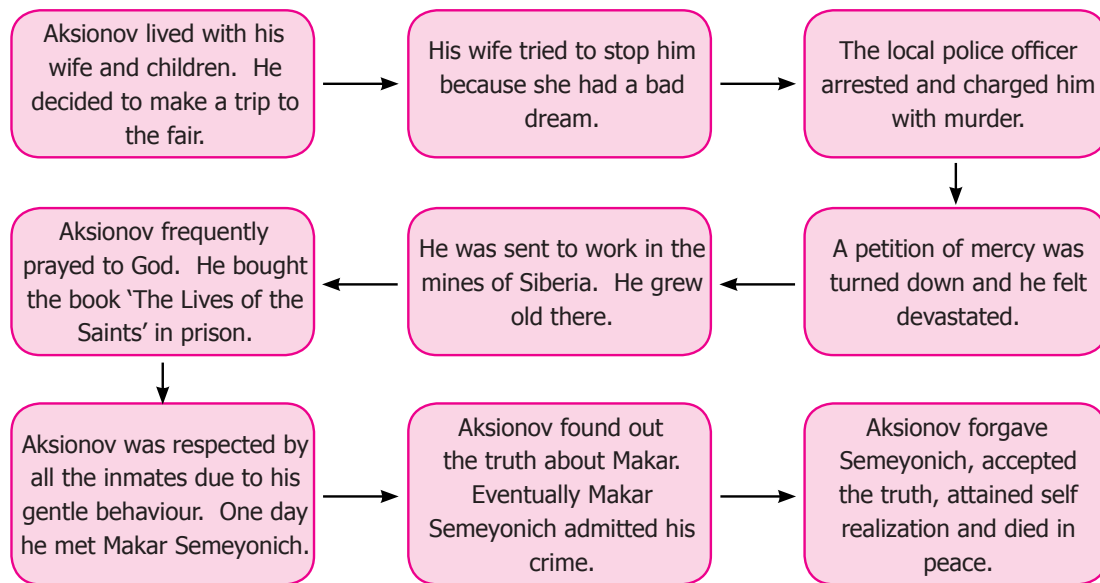

2. How did Aksionov transform Makar, the real culprit?

Title	God Sees the Truth, But Waits
Author	Leo Tolstoy
Theme	Forgiveness is the best form of revenge

Aksionov was so angry with Makar that he longed for vengeance when he came to conclusion that he must be the real culprit. He kept repeating prayers all night. He lost his peace of mind. He did not report to the authorities or reveal the fact to the Governor about who dug the tunnel. He would have realized the futility of such an action. Because, he had already lost his reputation as a good merchant. His wife had suspected him. His children would have become grown-ups. They might not welcome him back to the family. He had none to support him in the outside world. When Makar confessed his crime, he prayed that God would forgive him. He said that he was a hundred times worse than him. These words melted Makar's heart and so he confessed his crime.

4. Using the mind map given below, write a brief summary of the story in your own words.

Aksionov, a young and attractive business man, lived with his wife and children. One day he decided to go on a trip to the fair. But his wife persuaded him not to go because she had a bad dream. Laughing at the sign of bad omen, he proceeded. He stayed in an inn. The next day he 'started early in the morning. On the way, he was stopped by the local police officer. He was charged with murder and imprisoned. He felt devastated because the appeal for mercy was rejected.

He was then sent to Siberia, where he suffered a lot. He grew old. The book, 'The Lives of the Saint' transformed his life in prison. The inmates began to respect him on account of his gentle behaviour.

One day he met Makar, the real culprit. He found out the truth about him. He forgave Makar and said that he was a hundred times worse than him. Makar confessed his guilt. But when the order for his release came, Aksionov was already dead.
