ICE BREAKERS [PAGE 55]

Ice Breakers | Q 1 | Page 55

Narrate in your class any of the incidents of your life when you were extremely terrified or awestruck.

Solution: I used to reside in the town of Mahad for a few years of my childhood. I was in 6th standard when this terrifying incident took place. The nearby Savitri River was flooded due to incessant rains and floodwater had entered into our town. By sunset that evening, the water level was at the 1 st floor of my building where my flat was on the 2nd floor. It was turning dark and the water level was threatening to rise even further. We were hoping that the water does not enter our homes. Fortunately by midnight the water started to recede and our home was saved. The floods of that year had wreaked havoc in the town of Mahad. For me the entire experience was an unsettling one as if it were a bad dream.

From	Quality	Reasons
Trees
Streams

Solution:

Trees	The quality of selfless service	Trees often give back more to the environment than they take from it. They do so without expecting anything in return. I would like to imbibe such selfless character of the tree
	The quality of shedding leaves annually	I would like to imbibe the quality of trees of giving up anything that does not serve any purpose and thereby not holding on to the past

Streams	The quality to change course if required	I would like to be flexible like a stream and adapt to any situation. I should be able to explore other options than giving up on an obstacle.
	The quality to selfpurify from contamination during its own course.	Similar to a stream, I would like to analyse my mistakes and correct them on my own through the course of my life.

Imagine you have visited the jungles of Nagarhole. Write a report, to be published in your college magazine / in a local newspaper.

Solution:

Jungles of Nagarhole

11th January 2020

Komal Mehta
(Student Reporter)

As a part of their annual study tour, students of SYJC, Science, Division I, visited the Nagarhole National park of Karnataka, also known as the Rajiv Gandhi National Park. The three-day visit that started on 1th January was supervised by Sawant Sir of Physics department and accompanied by the support staff. 71 students from the division had enrolled for the tour and were accommodated in 'the Bison' resort situated within the wildlife reserve. On day one, the students attended a workshop on wildlife of Nagarhole that was conducted by the Head Warden of the National Park. The students were also briefed about the precautions to be taken during their safari on the following day.

On the second day of the visit, students were divided into 4 groups to proceed for Jungle safari, each group headed by a local tour guide. They were successful in spotting big cats as well as other wild animals. Students were asked to take photographs and note their observations of the wildlife of Nagarhole. Day three of the tour was solely allotted to fun and recreational activities. Upon returning every student was expected to prepare a presentation about their visit.

Students learnt a great deal about the rich wildlife reserve of our country and returned with a pledge to sincerely devote to the cause of its conservation. All in all, the visit to the jungles of Nagarhole was a huge success.
